ERRATUM

Errata for “Jozef Zwierzycki, a prolific Polish geological mapping expert in Indonesia, 1914 – 1938.”

J.T. (Han) van Gorsel¹, Alina Chrzastek² & Anna Gorecka-Nowak²

¹Retired, ExxonMobil, Houston, US

²Institute of Geological Sciences, University of Wroclaw, Poland

ABSTRACT

The two co-authors of the paper on Dr. J. Zwierzycki in Berita Sedimentologi 46, A. Chrzastek and A. Gorecka-Nowak requested of few corrections. None of these are related to the life and work of Dr. Zwierzycki during his time in Indonesia

Errata to Berita Sedimentologi No. 46, pp. 69-73 (published in November 2020)

Page 61: Jozef Zwierzycki was a Polish-German geologist (should be Polish)

Page 61: Jozef Zwierzycki was born on 12 March 1888 in Krobi (should be Krobia), went to elementary school in Krobi (should be Krobia) and completed high school in Gnesen (should be Gniezno).

Page 61: thesis on ammonites from the 1911-1913 (should be 1909-1913) Tendaguru Expedition.

Page 69: projects in the Zechstein of the Sudeten zone near the Carpathian Mountains (should be oil geology projects in the Carpathian Mountains).

Page 69: In July 1944 Zwierzycki managed to escape (should be on 1st of August)

Page 69: displaced from territories in Eastern Poland annexed by Russia (now Belorussia) (should be Ukraine, Belorussia and Lithuania).

Page 70: at the University of Breslau (renamed Wroclaw) (should be Wroclaw (former Breslau)).

Page 70: Kupferschiefer of the Sudetes (should be Fore-Sudetic Homocline)

Page 70: St. Wawrzynca cemetery (should be St. Lawrence cemetery (Cmentarz Św. Wawrzyńca)).